DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election without traverse of invention as shown in Fig. 6 in the reply filed on 11/21/2007 is acknowledged.

Claims 32-35, 40-47 and 50 read upon the elected species shown in Fig. 6. Claims 36-39, 48-49 do not read upon elected Fig. 6 are therefore withdrawn from further consideration.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 32-35, 40-41, 43, 45-47 and 50 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Pathak et al-5,741,323.

As to claims 32-35, 40-41, 43, 45, 47 and 50, Pathak-'323 (Fig. 2A-2B, for example; ) discloses inner shaft 22/23, balloon 24, flexible sleeve 30 as a mounting body, in vivo moldable polymeric stent 36, marker band 34.

As to claims 32, 45 and 46, Pathak-'323 (Fig. 2A-2B) shows element 26 and 34 as two stops.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 42, 44 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pathak et al-5,741,323.

As to claims 42 and 44, Pathak et al-5,741,323 discloses substantially the claimed invention, except for sleeve 30 made of an elastomeric or silicone. However, elastomeric and silicone are well known flexible and resilient materials used in the art. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to substitute a elastomeric material or a silicone for a flexible polyethylene of Pathak-'323's sleeve 30 as a substitution of a well known material in the art for another similar material would have been within level of one of ordinary skill in the art.

Double Patenting

This application has many parent cases. When a set of allowable claims has been identified, a double patenting rejection will be applied between this case and conflicting parent cases.

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement filed 9/22/2003 includes cited foreign patent documents and other documents. These documents are not available in the electronic data base with the file at the time of examination, therefore these documents have not been considered.

For completeness of the electronic file of this application and for examination efficiency, the Applicant is requested to provide these documents in response to this "Office Action", so that the documents can be scanned and made of file record for this application.
